

Blockade radius activity:

Assume we want to drive the purple atoms so that as many as possible are excited under the constraints imposed by the two blockade radii below. What patterns of excitation are possible for atoms placed in a square grid?

